FINE WINDOW DECORATIONS

Have Attracted Thousands of Delighted Sightseers-All of the Displays Suggestive of Christmas and the Holiday Sesson-Some of the Displays Are Novel as Well as Elaborate and Beautiful.

For the Christmas trade Wheeling's enterprising merchants have made unusual elaborate window displays, and their promptness in this line has been instrumental in a great measure for the opening of the holiday trade so The crowds on the streets last week and this are very suggestive of Christmas, and the merchants unite in saying that their sales for this period far exceed corresponding periods in former years. They degorated earlier and the shoppers are coming earlier to exemplify the adage about the hustling bird and the worm.

All of the merchants have not made special displays, yet have made artistic arrangements of the most attractive goods and the articles appropriate for holiday remembrances. For instance, the men's furnishers have converted their window spaces into beauty spots by next arrangements of vari-colored neckwear. Particularly noticeable in this regard are the displays of M. Gut-man & Co., C. Hess & Sons, D. Gundling, Lee Baer, Kraus Bros., McFad den's and the Hub. Further improve ments will be made by the Hub and Kraus Bros. to-day. "The Newsboy's Dream" will be she title of a neat scenic arrangement to be put in at the

The big department stores have gone into the thing in more detail and their displays are certainly ingenious. They are viewed every day and evening by large crowds, the children dragging their parents along to take in the show The firm of Geo. E. Stifel & Co. make a handsome showing in their three wincontains all that is dear to the devotee of Lady Nicotine. It is furnished on the Turkish order. The smiling dusky youth in the centre commands admiring attention. Another window is taken up with a display of imported umbrellas, and the remaining one shines resplendent in china and art novelties of Jap snese, German and Austrian designs

Geo. M. Snook & Co. have three windows on Main street and two on Market street, all complete in beautifying effects. But the feature is the novel representation of Mount Vesuvius in every evening. The power for this device is supplied by an eighthorse power electrical motor. The musical dolls, the automatic pig and a very beautiful doll, which this firm will give to the lucky coupon holders, are a great attraction in another window, and noteumbrella balustrade.

Probably the most unique window is at Stone & Thomas', which is a faith ful reproduction of the story of "Little Red Riding Hood." . There are the realistic effects in every detail from the wolf to the little miss herself, together with live squirrels, rabbits, chickens and doves, trees, but and pond, to com-plete the charming rustic seene. This window is deservedly admired. The store's other windows are given over to Renaissance goods and umbrellas.

Santa Claus in all his glory revels in the Market street windows of House & Herrmann's. He figures in three chap ters, so to speak. The first is his cave where in the evenings he makes toys in full sight of the multitude; then the cottage he visits, and next a street scene, where snow is continually fall

Very creditable displays are made by the Geo. R. Taylor Co. and J. S. Rhodes & Co. and other ladies' furnishings stores; Dillon, Hancher & Co., Sheff Bros., McNamee and Becker, in jewelry; Frank Stanton, Joseph Graves Son and Albert Dittmar in toys and stationer; Joseph Friedel & Co. in thina and glassware, and many other stores in their respective lines. At Ja son C. Stamp's sporting goods house on Market street, a kinetoscopic exhibition of the Dewey reception in Nev York and of puglistic contests is shown every evening

If the weather continues cool and crisp the merchants are looking for ward to unprecedentedly large holiday

Breadstuffs and Provisions.

CHICAGO-Wheat opened steady to-day on prospects of a freeze, but weakened on the heavy increase in the world's visible, May closing %@%c under yesterday. May corn closed a shade up and May outs unchanged, Provisions were strengthened by a hog movement lighter than expected, small offerings and a good outside demand, May pork closing 17% over yesterday, May lard and May ribs each up 5c. May wheat opened 4c up at 694,695% all because some shorts saw prospects of damage in the coid snap following the recent mild weather. This advantage was lost on profit taking and selling against calls. For some time the market held fairly well at the decline, shorts doing a bit of covering and scalpers buying against puts. The report of a heavy increase in the world's visible, coming when it had been expected there would be little change in the figures, turned the tide against the price, and May fell to 65% c. Some of this was recovered on buying against privileges, but the close was easy, May 46% clower at 69c. New York reported no wheat taken for export. Attantic port clearances of wheat and four were equal to 285,000 bushels. Bradstreet's world's visible increased 3,670,000 bushels. Local receipts were ninety-four cars, 21 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 452 cars, against 1,029 last week and 844 a year ago. Primary receipts were 527,600 bushels compared with 1,175,200 bushels last year.

Corn early was easy and very dull, but the close was firm. A trifle was nipped off the price shortly after the opening, but this was recovered. The steadiness was due principally to the small country offerings and the unwillingness of local holders to let go. The weather, too, has not turned enough to promise immediate encouragement to the movements. Receipts were iberal, 518 cars here and 457,000 against 778,000 a year ago at the principal wastern points. May ranged from 23% c to 32% c, closing a shade up at 13% c.

The oats market held steady, but in a very dull and listless way, the range being only %c. Bad weather for movement was a support. The shipping demand while not sharp, was better than experienced in the other grain pits. Receipts here were 30% cars. May sold from 23% to 24c, closing unchanged at 24c.

Provisions were firm, pork especially so. The op movement lighter than expected, small offerings and a good outside demand, May pork closing 17% over yesterday,
